STORM IMPACT AND SANDBAG UPDATE

PLEASANTON, Calif. — The City of Pleasanton worked throughout the night on Wednesday responding to storm impacts, which primarily consisted of downed trees in roadways and on private property. As rain continued to fall, we did not see the same impacts as we did during the December 31 storm. This can be credited to the tremendous amount of work crews undertook on Monday and Tuesday clearing leaves, dirt, and debris from storm drains, drainage pipes, ditches, and creeks. Crews monitored flood-prone areas throughout the night on Wednesday and during the day Thursday.

While rain will continue Friday and throughout the weekend, it is not expected to be as severe as what we have seen in recent days. Another significant storm is forecast for Monday and Tuesday of next week. Please continue your cleanup, preparedness, and safety efforts as we head into the weekend.

Sandbags

The City of Pleasanton has scheduled a very large delivery of sand and sandbags to be delivered and available to the public by 10:00 am tomorrow, Friday, January 6. This delivery will be significantly larger than any previous deliveries and we encourage residents to take advantage of the increased stock to prepare their homes and businesses before the next storm.

Sand and sandbags will be available at the City's Operations Services Department located at 3333 Busch Road, Pleasanton. While this delivery should be enough to meet the needs of our community throughout the weekend, please be a good neighbor and take only what you need for your property.
